Disclaimer

All My Kitties is a non-traditional boarding facility. While each cat has their own condo to separate them from other guests, many cats like to intermingle in the secured, out- side cat patio. While guests love this feature, cats can occasionally dine on other guests' food and use a litter box other than their own.

Also, while rare, a cat can get in a squabble with another guest. This is a risk that you choose to take because of the wonderful benefits gained from being able to roam free in a bed and breakfast where dogs are not allowed. If you understand and agree to the rare risks that are possible please sign and date.
